

Survey of Current Business* Begins Rolling Schedule and Launches New Website

January 9, 2023

The Survey of Current Business is starting 2023 with a new website that will publish articles faster and make them easier to find.

Individual articles, visual essays, and other content will be published when ready instead of waiting to publish content on the same day each month. This “rolling” schedule approach, alongside a newly designed website with improved navigation, archives, browse functions, and more will better serve our readers.

This is the latest step to modernize BEA's journal of record, which has evolved over more than a century to present the statistics and research produced by the U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis and its predecessor agencies. The Survey celebrated its centennial in July 2021.

Stay tuned through the year as we continue to make improvements to the site and its content. To keep informed of updates and subscribe to the Survey, sign up for email notifications.

New Site
Same Great Content...
Faster 